2. He stated that he was sure we did not intend to authorize a Division Chief to amend a project and pointed out that in this particular case, no present authority existed under any provision to make the contemplated expenditure. project

3. I assured him that we did not intend to amend the Regulations by our opinion. I stated that I believed it was [REDACTED] s intention merely to remind the addressee that if a project was approved for a general purpose, it was not necessary that each tactical decision go to the DDP since the responsibility and authority for such decisions rested in Division Chiefs. For example, if, in the instant case there were a project generally for liaison with the [REDACTED], this particular expenditure, if primarily for liaison purposes, could be authorized by the Division Chief.
